Galleria (Modular System / Bench), designed by Pearson Lloyd

 Tacchini

Tacchini conquers the international design arena: winner of the Interior Innovation Award, Galleria seating system will go on display at the Russian Interior Show 2014.

(EN) Tacchini's international success continues. This excellence-driven contract furniture firm, offers products ranging from the rediscovery of previously unknown pieces by great Italian masters, to partnerships with key figures in contemporary European design.

Designed by British duo Pearson Lloyd, the Galleria seating system has won one of the most prestigious accolades in the design world: the Interior Innovation Award from the German Design Council, given by an international jury for the most innovative projects.

Luke Pearson & Tom Lloyd

Galleria is a complete design with the versatility to create a vast range of different solutions: from a linear bench to a double corner seat, to an island perfect for waiting, relaxation and conviviality. And all this is developed around a simple steel bar, onto which to freely attach the various simple, geometrically-shaped elements in a range of materials bursting with character: wood, leather, fabric and metal painted in a range of colours. Each composition can be used on its own or in groups, offering endless possibilities for use that will blend beautifully with any space or style.

Created to meet the multiple needs of contemporary collective spaces, dynamically international in style, and unmistakably British in quality, Galleria seating system will be the star feature of a special display during the Russian Interior Show (May 20th—24th 2014) in Moscow, a major event organized in partnership with the Cologne trade fair.

An important event in a rapidly-expanding market for Tacchini: an Italian firm that is increasingly receiving international praise from design experts, trade members and the public alike.
